Singapore shares fall, bucking regional trend; STI down 0.3%

Across the broader market, gainers outnumber losers 397 to 219 after 2.1b securities worth S$2.3b change hands. BY RANAMITA CHAKRABORTY

STOCKS on the local bourse closed lower on Thursday (Apr 16), despite a positive regional performance and growing optimism that the US and Iran will extend their ceasefire to continue negotiations.

The benchmark Straits Times Index (STI) lost 0.3 per cent or 13.37 points to finish at 5,007.83.

Mapletree Logistics Trust led the gainers on the blue-chip barometer, rising 1.6 per cent or S$0.02 to end at

S$1.26. The STI's biggest decliner was Singtel, which fell 1.8 per cent or S$0.09 to close at S$4.83.

The three local banks ended lower. DBS lost 0.7 per cent or S$0.40 to S$57.30, OCBC fell 1 per cent or S$0.22 to S$22.66, and UOB was down 0.2 per cent or S$0.07 at S$37.52.

Across the broader market, gainers outnumbered losers 397 to 219, after 2.1 billion securities worth S$2.3 billion changed hands.

Key regional indices closed higher. Hong Kong's Hang Seng Index gained 1.7 per cent, Japan's Nikkei 225 rose 2.4 per cent, South Korea's Kospi was up 2.2 per cent, and the FTSE Bursa Malaysia KLCI advanced 0.4 per cent.

The region's broadly positive showing on Thursday came amid rising hopes for an imminent resolution to the conflict in the Middle East, even as the US and Iran position for control over the Strait of Hormuz.

Jose Torres, senior economist at Interactive Brokers, pointed out that the US stock market's record-breaking rally has continued, driven by renewed hopes for peace in the Middle East.

This has propelled tech stocks to their 11th consecutive day of gains, he noted.

US dollar inches higher; yen is little changed

THE greenback rose slightly on Thursday (Apr 16), but remained near its lowest level since early March, as markets waited hopefully for further news about a possible US-Iran peace deal.

President Donald Trump said that the US-Israeli war on Iran was "close to over", while the White House expressed optimism about a deal, saying more in-person talks would likely take place in Pakistan again.

Yet, an Iranian official said big splits remained on Thursday, including over Teheran's nuclear ambitions, even as the two sides have made some progress, helping cool market optimism.

The euro briefly strengthened past US$1.18 after rising for eight consecutive sessions, but was last down 0.1 per cent just below that level.

Sterling was last roughly flat at US$1.3553, after data showed UK growth beat expectations in February.

Both currencies hovered near their highest levels since before the Iran war began in February.

The dollar index, which measures the currency's strength against six major peers, rose 0.15 per cent to 98.15.

It declined for eight straight sessions till Wednesday to give up most of the gains sparked by the war, as a tentative ceasefire revived appetite for riskier currencies.

"Markets are now basically looking past the conflict and pricing that there's going to be some kind of settlement," said Khoo Goh, the head of Asia research at ANZ.

"As markets are pricing out the war premium, we could see the dollar coming under further pressure and resuming the downtrend that has been established since basically last year."

The yen was little changed at 158.96 per dollar after Japanese Finance Minister Satoshi Katayama said that Japan and the US agreed to intensify communication on exchange rates; this came after her meeting with US Treasury Secretary

Scott Bessent on Wednesday.

Data showed that China's economy grew 5 per cent in the first quarter, beating analysts' expectations and picking up speed on strong exports and policy support.

The offshore yuan traded at 6.8187 yuan per dollar, hovering near a three-year high.

The Australian dollar, which is often seen as a proxy for sentiment about the global economy, strengthened to a four-year high of US$0.7197. Australian employment rose broadly in line with expectations in March, prompting markets to maintain bets on a roughly 70 per cent chance the Reserve Bank of Australia will raise rates again in May.
