Singapore shares pull back despite robust Q3 GDP; STI down 0.8%

Across the broader market, losers beat winners 430 to 221, after 1.9b securities worth S$2b change hands. BY RENALD YEO

STOCKS on the Singapore bourse closed lower on Tuesday (Oct 14), even as the city-state's economy grew faster than expected.

The benchmark Straits Times Index (STI) slipped 0.8 per cent, or 35.32 points, to 4,354.52. Losers beat winners 430 to 221 in the broader market, with 1.9 billion securities traded and total turnover at S$2 billion.

Genting Singapore was the STI's top gainer, rising 1.4 per cent or S$0.01 to S$0.725. The previous day, its Malaysia-listed parent unveiled a RM6.7 billion (S$2.1 billion) proposal to buy out the minority shareholders of Genting Malaysia.

Genting Singapore was also the most actively traded STI counter by volume, with 78.5 million shares worth S$56.8 million changing hands.

Meanwhile, the biggest decliner was Seatrium, which fell 4.5 per cent or S$0.10 to S$2.12.

Share price movements among the three local banks were mixed. OCBC rose 0.1 per cent or S$0.01 to S$16.78, DBS fell 1.4 per cent or S$0.75 to S$52.65 and UOB lost 0.4 per cent or S$0.14 to S$34.79.

Separately, Singapore's GDP for the third quarter grew 2.9 per cent year on year, beating the Bloomberg consensus forecast of 2 per cent. On the same day, the Monetary Authority of Singapore left its monetary policy settings unchanged for a second straight meeting, after easing in January and April this year.

Elsewhere in Asia, key indices also ended lower. Hong Kong's Hang Seng Index fell 1.7 per cent or 448.13 points to 25,441.35, while the Shanghai Composite Index slipped 0.6 per cent or 24.27 points to 3,865.23.

Japan's Nikkei 225 lost 2.6 per cent or 1,241.48 points to 46,847.3, and the FTSE Bursa Malaysia KLCI dipped 0.2 per cent or 3.73 points to 1,611.46.

Aussie slides on US-China trade spat; euro falls

THE Australian dollar tumbled on Tuesday (Oct 14), while the safe-haven Swiss franc and Japanese yen strengthened as renewed signs of strains in US-China trade relations dented risk sentiment and left investors ducking for cover.

Trade and tariffs have been the main focus since dramatic market moves on Friday when US President Donald Trump threatened to slap additional 100 per cent tariffs on goods from China, in response to Beijing's curbing of exports of critical minerals.

While a more conciliatory tone from Trump at the weekend helped fuel some optimism at the start of this week, Tuesday served as a stark reminder that ties between the two nations remain on thin ice. The US and China on Tuesday will begin charging additional port fees on ocean shipping firms that move everything from holiday toys to crude oil.

In addition, Beijing announced that it has taken countermeasures against five US-linked subsidiaries of South Korean shipbuilding firm Hanwha Ocean and separately said it has launched an investigation into how a US Section 301 probe affects its domestic shipping industry.

The Australian dollar, often used as a liquid proxy for Chinese assets and broader risk sentiment given the two countries' close economic links, shed 1.1 per cent to 0.6446, its lowest in nearly two months. The New Zealand dollar fell 0.7 per cent to US$0.5685, its lowest since April.

"There's only one global story – the escalation of the trade war between the US and China, and it's a good reminder that even if this de-escalates at some point, which is both consensus, and also our view, that uncertainty and tariffs are for the long run," said Sammy Chaar, chief economist at Lombard Odier.

Safe-haven currencies were going the other way, with the dollar down 0.15 per cent against the Japanese yen at 152.0. It also fell on the Swiss franc, and even after a small recovery, it was last down 0.1 per cent at 0.8035 francs. However, political uncertainty in Japan capped the yen's gains. Sanae Takaichi's bid to become the nation's first female prime minister was thrown into doubt on Friday when her ruling party's junior coalition partner quit.

The Japanese currency, however, is still within sight of last week's eight-month low hit when markets were betting Takaichi would put pressure on the Bank of Japan to hold off on rate hikes.

Markets were less clear what the global trade tensions might mean for the dollar more broadly or for the euro. The euro/dollar is the world's most traded currency pair. Traders in Asia bid the euro higher, but those in Europe disagreed and the euro was last down 0.18 per cent at US$1.1549, its lowest in over two months.

French Prime Minister Sebastian Lecornu will address parliament on Tuesday to spell out his budget priorities, hoping to win over enough of the Socialist Party to avoid losing a no-confidence vote, but the impact on markets so far has been limited.

Chaar said while Japanese politics mattered for the yen, France's political deadlock mattered less for the euro, as it was hard to see any outcome to the current situation that would significantly change French, let alone broader European, fiscal or monetary policy. REUTERS
