

What are cryptocurrencies?

- They are digital or virtual currencies secured by cryptography
- A popular example is Bitcoin
- They are not managed by any central authority
- You can buy goods and services with them, and also trade them like equities or other asset classes

Source: Compiled by BT