

Alvin Tan Sheng Hui

39, PAP

Expected to contest:
Jalan Besar GRC

Mr Tan is the head of public policy and economics at tech firm LinkedIn, and prior to this, worked at Facebook.

Mr Tan has cited bridging the digital divide that the elderly and other vulnerable groups face as one of his aims.

Mr Tan is also a member of the Ministry of Communications and Information's Media Literacy Council and the supervisory panel of REACH, the government's feedback unit.

Derrick Goh

Soon Hee

51, PAP

Expected to contest:
Nee Soon GRC

Mr Goh is the managing director and head of group audit at DBS, where he takes charge of the bank's controls, risk and governance. He has also held other senior positions in DBS, such as regional chief operating officer, chief financial officer of the institutional banking group and the regional head of finance, group planning and analytics.

Prior to DBS, Mr Goh had held senior finance roles at American Express, in markets including Paris, London and New York.

Mr Goh is the vice chairman of the Gambas-Yishun Citizens' Consultative Committee (CCC).

Don Wee Boon Hong

43, PAP

Expected to contest:
Choa Chu Kang GRC

Mr Wee is a senior vice president at UOB. He has been cited as one of the candidates who took an unconventional route to success. Mr Wee, who grew up in a rental flat, chose to pursue a polytechnic diploma so that he could enter the workforce earlier. He subsequently joined a local bank as a non-executive staff member and pursued an accounting degree part-time.

Mr Wee later became a chartered accountant and also earned two Master's degrees, including one in public administration from the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy.

Gigene Wong

54, PSP

Expected to contest:
Hong Kah North SMC

Ms Wong returned to Singapore early this year after two decades in China, where she was the chief executive of Gulf Oil China and chief financial officer of Shenzhen-listed Foshan Electrical and Lighting. She now works as a human resource specialist at Wison Offshore & Marine.

Ms Wong decided to enter politics after seeing others grapple with the rising cost of living. She flew back to Singapore after being contacted by Dr Tan Cheng Bock in March. She had humble beginnings and took up three jobs when she was 17 to fund part-time courses.

Jamus Lim

44, WP

Expected to contest:
Sengkang GRC

Mr Lim is an associate professor of economics at ESSEC Business School and chief economist at investment management firm Thirdrock Group. He holds a PhD in international economics and a master's degree in politics from the University of California, Santa Cruz. He also holds master's degrees from Harvard University and the London School of Economics. Before entering academia, he spent three years doing portfolio management as an economist at the Abu Dhabi Investment Authority. He also worked on international development at the World Bank for seven years.

Jose Raymond

48, SPP

Expected to contest:
Potong Pasir SMC

Mr Raymond is founder and chief strategy officer of public relations firm SW Strategies. He plans to contest Potong Pasir SMC, the former stronghold of ex-SPP leader Chiam See Tong.

As a journalist, he covered the Sri Lanka conflict in 2000 and the RSS Courageous patrol vessel collision in Singapore in 2003.

Mr Raymond then went on to become the deputy director of Sport Singapore for media relations and social media. He was also chief executive of the Singapore Environment Council.

Leong Mun Wai

60, PSP

Expected to contest:
West Coast GRC

One of Mr Leong's career highlights was his role as managing director of OCBC Securities. He was involved in the acquisition of securities and futures firms, and developing new businesses such as online and margin trading and wealth management.

Mr Leong began his career in 1986 with the Government of Singapore Investment Corporation as an investment officer. He later worked at global investment banks, helping Asian companies in fundraising and initial public offerings. Today, he is founder and chief executive of private equity firm Timbre Capital.

Louis Chua

33, WP

Expected to contest:
Sengkang GRC

Mr Chua covers the real estate and transport sectors in Singapore as an equity research analyst at investment bank Credit Suisse.

He was previously an equity research analyst at UBS, covering commodity traders and the media, transportation and technology industries.

Mr Chua has a degree in accountancy from the Singapore Management University and is a qualified chartered accountant, which he said makes him well-placed to deal with the financial aspects of town council management.

Mariam Jaafar

43, PAP

Expected to contest:
Sembawang GRC

Ms Mariam is the Singapore managing director and a partner at Boston Consulting Group (BCG). On the company's website, she is cited as a core member of the technology, media and telecommunications, as well as the financial institutions practices. She joined BCG in 2006 and has since worked with public and private-sector clients in the US and South-east Asia.

Ms Mariam is a board member at GovTech. She has also served on the Committee on the Future Economy, chaired by Deputy Prime Minister Heng Swee Keat.

Tan See Leng

55, PAP

Expected to contest:
Marine Parade GRC

Dr Tan has over 30 years of experience in the medical sector. He was previously managing director and chief executive of Singapore-listed IHH Healthcare, from 2014 to 2019. Under his leadership, IHH has grown its presence to 12 countries worldwide.

Dr Tan is presently a corporate advisor to Temasek Holdings and an advisor to DBS. He is also an independent director at Surbana Jurong.

He said that he has spent two years of mentorship under Emeritus Senior Minister Goh Chok Tong, including working with Mr Goh on a caregiver support network for the elderly.
