Singapore stocks falter amid US-Iran stand-off; STI down 0.3%

Across the broader market, gainers beat decliners 218 to 206, with 1.1b securities changing hands. BY RANAMITA CHAKRABORTY

STOCKS on the local bourse ended lower on Tuesday (Apr 7) as key Asian markets delivered mixed results, after US President Donald Trump announced a deadline to target Iranian power plants.

The benchmark Straits Times Index (STI) fell 0.3 per cent, or 14.39 points, closing at 4,958.01.

Across the broader market, gainers outnumbered decliners 218 to 206, with 1.1 billion securities worth S$1.5 billion traded.

DFI Retail Group led the gainers on the blue-chip index as it rose 3.4 per cent or US$0.15 to end at US$4.54.

Jardine Matheson Holdings (JMH) was the biggest decliner, falling 1.8 per cent or US$1.33 to close at US$72.92.

The three local banks closed lower, with OCBC losing 0.6 per cent or

S$0.14 to S$22.30, DBS slipping 0.3 per cent or S$0.16 to S$57.47, and UOB down 0.1 per cent or S$0.03 to S$36.87.

The iEdge Singapore Next 50 Index edged down 0.1 per cent or 0.93 point at 1,466.43.

Yangzijiang Financial was the top gainer on the index, rising 4 per cent or S$0.01 to S$0.26, while Pan-United Corporation was the biggest decliner, dropping 1.8 per cent or S$0.03 to S$1.68.

Key regional indices ended mixed. Japan’s Nikkei 225 rose 0.03 per cent and South Korea’s Kospi gained 0.8 per cent.

Meanwhile, Malaysia’s FTSE Bursa KLCI declined 0.2 per cent.

US stocks, however, advanced on Monday. This comes as investors weighed the prospects of a US-Iran ceasefire against President Trump’s escalating threats, if Iran fails to reopen the Strait of Hormuz.

“Trump’s deadlines still move markets, but the impact is gradually becoming smaller,” said James Ooi, market strategist at Tiger Brokers.

He noted that investors are drawing parallels to last year’s tariff deal-ines which were often extended, and are starting to anticipate a more favourable outcome, referred to as Taco (Trump always chickens out).

Ooi cautioned that a truce could spark a strong rally, while further escalation, particularly if it pushes up oil prices, could trigger a sharper sell-off. For now, he observed, the markets appear to be pricing in limited downside risk.

Greenback holds firm; yen slips

THE US dollar was not far from its highest levels in almost 11 months on Tuesday (Apr 7) with investors pausing ahead of a US-imposed deadline for Iran to reopen the Strait of Hormuz to shipping or face attacks on its infrastructure. The war in the Middle East and the closure of the chokepoint in the Gulf have sent energy prices soaring and driven investors to dollars as the most effective safe haven, pushing the greenback higher. Iran showed no sign of agreeing to US President Donald Trump's demand that it open the Strait of Hormuz before his 8 pm Eastern Time (midnight GMT) deadline. "No one knows whether the deadline is another bout of maximalist pressure from the White House, but until there is news of a ceasefire, or perhaps a prolonged postponement of the current deadline, the dollar is likely to stay bid," said Chris Turner, head of forex research at ING. Brent crude futures hovered around US$110 a barrel as Iran's rejection of the US ceasefire proposal has kept tensions elevated. "The Iranian leadership has demonstrated, surprisingly to many it seems, that it can exercise full control over the Strait," said Thu Lan Nguyen, head of forex and commodity research at Commerzbank. "And it is already becoming apparent that Iran intends to utilise this control for its long-term interests," she added. The dollar index was at 100. It hit 100.64 last week, its highest since May 2025. The yen slipped to 159.80 to the dollar, not far from multi-decade troughs and levels that drew intervention in 2024. Investors will also closely watch US economic data for clues on the Federal Reserve's policy path, with solid readings likely to prompt investors to price in further rate hikes if energy prices rise again. "Markets are beginning to focus on the risks to growth, as much as to inflation, from demand destruction," said Bob Savage, global head of market strategy at BNY. Personal consumption expenditures index for February is due on Thursday, but investors will closely watch some demand data as well, including durable goods orders on Tuesday, and the Michigan consumer sentiment on Friday. The minutes from the Federal Open Market Committee meeting in March will be released on Wednesday and are expected to provide indications on the policy outlook. The euro was roughly unchanged at US$1.1550, while traders priced in three European Central Bank rate hikes by year-end and ECB officials reiterated the central bank could act to tame inflation. "Any pushback against an April rate hike could be a euro negative," said ING's Turner. ECB's Dimitar Radev said the central bank must be ready to raise rates swiftly if signs of persistent price pressures emerged, and Belgian central bank chief Pierre Wunsch said a move in April could not be ruled out. The Australian and New Zealand dollars, which tumbled as fighting and Iranian strikes on Middle East energy infrastructure intensified late in March, were off lows but trading softer at US$0.6927 and US$0.57, respectively.
