ST Engineering buoys Singapore shares as war jitters rattle key Asian markets; STI up 0.5%

Across the broader market, losers outnumbered gainers 349 to 279, as 2.3b securities worth S$3b change hands. BY JUDE CHAN

SINGAPORE'S benchmark Straits Times Index (STI) eked out a 0.5 per cent gain on Tuesday (Mar 3), rising 25.79 points to finish at 4,916.65, even as the war in Iran continued to sour investor sentiment.

This came as several key regional indices fell sharply.

South Korea's Kospi slumped 7.2 per cent, Japan's Nikkei 225 slid 3.1 per cent, and Hong Kong's Hang Seng Index fell 1.1 per cent.

The FTSE Bursa Malaysia KLCI climbed 0.7 per cent.

Across the broader Singapore market, losers outnumbered gainers 349 to 279, after 2.3 billion securities worth S$3 billion changed hands.

The blue-chip index was lifted by defence contractor ST Engineering, which charged up 7.2 per cent or S$0.74 to close at S$10.99.

At the bottom of the STI table was Singapore's largest real estate investment trust, CapitaLand Integrated Commercial Trust (CICT), which fell 1.2 per cent or S$0.03 to S$2.43.

The trio of local banks ended mixed.

DBS slipped 0.1 per cent or S$0.03 to S$55.60, while OCBC gained 0.9 per cent or S$0.18 to S$21.11, and UOB climbed 0.1 per cent or S$0.04 to S$36.34.

The iEdge Singapore Next 50 Index retreated 1.9 per cent to close at 1,481.79 points.

In a research report, Pictet Wealth Management said the war in Iran is "negative for equities in the very short term as markets adjust to the general increase in geopolitical uncertainty and a sharp rise in oil prices".

While Pictet noted that the nega-

Greenback advances on flight to safety

THE US dollar extended gains on Tuesday (Mar 3) as the deepening conflict in the Middle East rekindled inflation concerns and prompted a flight to safety, while the yen hit its lowest in over five weeks.

The spike in oil prices has led traders to reassess expectations for interest-rate cuts by global central banks, especially in countries that rely heavily on crude imports.

Traders are also viewing the US as a relative refuge due to its greater energy independence, even as the greenback's status as a dependable safe haven has been questioned over the past year.

"As a major oil producer with the world's reserve currency, the US is likely to be seen as a safe haven for investor funds," said Kathy Jones, Schwab Center for Finanial Research's chief fixed income strategist.

The euro slid to its lowest level against the US dollar since January, and was last down 0.8 per cent at US$1.1595. The yen fell 0.24 per cent to 157.72 per US dollar, its weakest since Jan 23, when the New York Federal Reserve reportedly conducted rate checks on the currency pair.

Europe and Japan are more exposed to higher energy costs than the US, which is a net energy exporter. Rodrigo Catril, a currency strategist at National Australia Bank, said on a podcast: "Europe and Japan stand out within the major economies, in that they still have a great need to import energy."

"History will tell you that currencies such as the yen and the euro would struggle to perform."

The US dollar index, which measures the greenback against a basket of currencies, rose 0.77 per cent to 99.267, the strongest in more than a month.

However, Invesco strategists cautioned that the rally could be short-lived, highlighting that "tepid" dollar gains after US strikes on Iran's nuclear sites last June quickly gave way to underperformance.

Japanese Finance Minister Satoshi Katayama said financial officials are monitoring markets with an "extremely strong sense of urgency". When asked about the possibility of currency intervention, she said Japan had reached a common understanding with the US last year.

"I think the initial knee-jerk reaction when conflict arises is always flight to safety," Serene Chen, JPMorgan's head of credit, currency and emerging market sales for the Asia-Pacific, said at a media roundtable in Singapore.

Concerns that higher inflation will delay the Federal Reserve's next cut in interest rates also boosted the US dollar. Rate cuts typically weigh on a currency.

A rate cut is no longer fully priced in until September, compared with previous expectations. Traders continue to price in two 25-basis-point cuts by year-end.

Sterling weakened 0.87 per cent to US$1.3290, hitting its lowest since December. The currency had already been languishing due to domestic economic and political headwinds.

The Swiss franc was down 0.1 per cent at 0.9118 per euro. In a rare move on Monday, the Swiss National Bank signalled that it would be willing to intervene to check the gains in the franc, which can hurt exporters.

US President Donald Trump said the war could continue for weeks and that it was unclear who was in charge in Iran after the death of Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei. REUTERS
