Singapore shares end higher amid mixed regional showing; STI up 0.2%

Across the broader market, losers beat gainers 437 to 221, after 2b securities worth S$2.1b change hands. BY CHLOE LIM

SINGAPORE stocks closed higher on Monday (May 18), with a mixed performance in regional markets amid escalating geopolitical tensions and a surge in oil prices.

The benchmark Straits Times Index (STI) gained 0.2 per cent or 7.67 points to finish at 4,996.75.

ST Engineering led the gainers on Singapore's blue-chip index, rising 4.1 per cent or S$0.42 to S$10.79.

The worst performer among STI constituents was Hongkong Land, which fell 2.7 per cent or US$0.22 to US$7.99.

Asset manager Keppel ended 2.1 per cent or S$0.22 lower at S$10.38.

This came after the Infocomm Media Development Authority halted its assessment of the proposed consolidation between Keppel subsidiary M1 and Simba Telecom until further notice.

This followed the authority learning that Simba could have been using radio frequency bands that it had not been not assigned to provide mobile services.

The asset manager said that it will allow the sale and purchase agreement between M1 and Simba to lapse upon reaching the long-stop date on May 21.

The three local banks ended mixed on Monday.

DBS rose 0.9 per cent or S$0.56 to S$60.76, and OCBC was up 0.5 per

US dollar dips; rising oil, bond yields unsettle investors

THE US dollar dipped against most major currencies on Monday (May 18), but held near last week's highs as the Middle East conflict continued to nudge oil prices and global bond yields higher, while the yen weakened enough to keep traders watching out for possible intervention.

The euro was last up 0.1 per cent at US$1.1635 and sterling was up 0.3 per cent at US$1.3351. The dollar index, which tracks the US currency against six others, was a touch softer at 99.17, having posted its strongest weekly performance in three months last week.

"It appears conditions for risk and bonds are deteriorating and conditions for the dollar rally to extend this week are ripe," analysts at Barclays wrote in a note.

Signs that the Strait of Hormuz will remain closed for longer are also exerting upward pressure, with the dollar gaining 0.5 per cent to 1 per cent for every 10 per cent rise in oil prices, they added.

Oil prices climbed on Monday, with Brent crude futures rising more than 1 per cent to over US$110 a barrel, after a nuclear power plant in the United Arab Emirates came under attack and efforts to end the US-Israeli war on Iran appear to have stalled.

Further denting risk appetite, last week's global bond rout extended into Monday, as rising energy prices prompted investors to assume central banks could quickly raise rates.

Benchmark 10-year US Treasury yields were up one basis point on the day at 4.603 per cent, having risen by 15 bps in the last two weeks alone.

Commerzbank strategist Michael Pfister said shifting expectations for interest rates – and the subsequent rise in bond yields – were at the heart of the dollar's relative resilience.

"Although expectations regarding the Fed had shifted significantly towards a more restrictive monetary policy from the outset, market participants were still reluctant to bet on interest rate hikes. This changed last week, with expectations regarding the Fed shifting most markedly among the G10," he said.

Christopher Wong, FX strategist at OCBC, said in a note that minutes from the Federal Reserve's last meeting and US flash purchasing managers' surveys later this week should help clarify how concerned the central bank is about persistent inflation and whether activity momentum is holding up.

Markets are now pricing in a more than 50 per cent chance that the Fed would raise rates by December, according to the CME FedWatch tool.

Investors are also watching as the Group of Seven finance ministers and central bankers meet in Paris on Monday and Tuesday to discuss how to bring a lasting end to the war in Iran.

The yen last traded at 158.94, around its weakest since April 29, which put investors on alert for a possible intervention.

Japan's government is likely to issue fresh debt as part of funding for a planned extra budget to cushion the economic blow from the Middle East war, a government source with direct knowledge of the deliberations told Reuters on Monday.

Meanwhile, the offshore yuan weakened to 6.808 yuan per dollar.

The meetings between US President Donald Trump and Chinese President Xi Jinping last week offered no major breakthroughs, while data released on Monday showed China's growth lost momentum in April. REUTERS
