Singapore shares gain as investors take stock; STI increases 0.5%

Across the broader market, losers beat gainers 283 to 238, as 1.4b securities worth S$1.5b change hands. BY MEGAN CHEAH

LOCAL stocks climbed on Thursday (May 15), as investors assessed financial results from listed companies here.

The benchmark Straits Times Index added 0.5 per cent or 20.89 points to 3,891.94. Across the broader market, losers beat gainers 283 to 238, as 1.4 billion securities worth S$1.5 billion changed hands.

The STI's largest gainer was ST Engineering, which increased 1.9 per cent or S$0.14 to S$7.33. The defence and technology group continued to recoup losses from Tuesday, when it finished at the bottom of the table.

The biggest loser was Genting Singapore, which fell 2.7 per cent or S$0.02 to S$0.715. This comes after the integrated resort operator announced that its chief executive Tan Hee Teck will be retiring from the position on May 31. He will also be stepping down as chair and chief executive of Resorts World Sentosa.

The group also reported that net profit tumbled 41 per cent to S$145 million in the first quarter ended Mar 31, from S$247.4 million in the corresponding year-ago period.

Outside the STI, private cord-blood bank Cordlife Group jumped 54.8 per cent or S$0.085 to S$0.24. This comes after Thai-listed Medeze Group launched a partial offer for a 10 per cent stake in Cordlife at an offer price of S$0.25 a share.

The three local banks all gained ground. DBS climbed 1.9 per cent or S$0.85 to S$45.10, OCBC increased 0.4 per cent or S$0.06 to S$16.24 and UOB ascended 0.6 per cent or S$0.22 to S$35.49.

Regional indices were in the red. Hong Kong's Hang Seng Index declined 0.8 per cent, while South Korea's Kospi fell 0.7 per cent. Japan's Nikkei 225 lost 1 per cent and the Bursa Malaysia Kuala Lumpur Composite Index retreated 0.7 per cent.

US dollar dips as retail sales growth slows in April

THE greenback fell against the majority of its peers on Thursday (May 15) after a flurry of economic data, including a gauge of consumer health that showed retail spending slowed in April as an uncertain economic outlook weighed on sentiment.

The US dollar index, which measures the greenback against a basket of currencies, fell 0.25 per cent to 100.75, with the euro up 0.27 per cent at $1.1204.

The greenback started the week with a surge of more than 1 per cent Monday.

This was after the United States and China announced a 90-day pause on most of the tariffs imposed on each other's goods since early April, easing fears of a global recession.

In light of the easing trade tensions, markets have dialled back expectations for rate cuts from the US Federal Reserve this year, pricing in a 75.4 per cent chance for the first cut of at least 25 basis points at the central bank's September meeting, according to LSEG data.

The prior view was for a likely cut in July.

Surge in the won

Safe-haven currencies gained, with the Japanese yen strengthening 0.6 per cent to 145.94 per US dollar, after having touched a one-month low of 148.65 this week. The Swiss franc firmed 0.5 per cent to 0.8384 versus the greenback.

Meanwhile, the euro tacked on 0.2 per cent to US$1.1192.

Most Asian currencies advanced versus the US dollar, too.

This was led by a surge in the South Korean won for the second day, after news that officials from South Korea and the US met last week to discuss the US dollar/won exchange rate led to a bout of US dollar selling.

The won surged 0.8 per cent at 1,396.15 per US dollar. The sudden lift in the won was reminiscent of an unprecedented two-day surge in Taiwan's currency at the start of May, which also coincided with the end of US-Taiwan trade talks in Washington.

Sterling firmed 0.2% to US$1.328 against the greenback. PHOTO: REUTERS

The Taiwan dollar was 0.6 per cent stronger to the greenback on Thursday.

A Bloomberg report on Wednesday, however, said that the US is not negotiating for a weaker greenback as part of tariff talks, which has helped calm some nervousness in markets.

Elevated yields

Amundi Investment Institute turned cautious on the greenback in May versus a month ago. This comes as it believes a rotation out of the US will continue benefiting regions such as Europe, emerging markets and Asia, strategists said in a note.

"Hard data on US personal consumption have so far shown resilience despite weakness in consumer sentiment," said UniCredit investment strategist Thomas Strobel in a note.

US Treasury yields were elevated. Meanwhile, the benchmark 10-year yield hovered near a one-month top. This was in part due to worries over US President Donald Trump's Budget package that would add trillions of dollars to the US debt.

Sterling firmed 0.2 per cent to US$1.328 against the greenback after data showed that the UK economy unexpectedly expanded in March. REUTERS
