STI ends flat amid mixed regional trading

Across the broader market, gainers beat losers 288 to 245, after 1.3b securities worth S$1.5b change hands. BY YOUNG ZHAN HENG

SINGAPORE stocks ended flat on Wednesday (Nov 19), amid mixed regional trading.

The benchmark Straits Times Index (STI) edged up 0.01 per cent or 0.55 points to finish at 4,505.22. Meanwhile, the iEdge Singapore Next 50 Index lost 0.5 per cent or 7.15 points to close at 1,446.11.

Across the broader market, gainers beat losers 288 to 245, after 1.3 billion securities worth S$1.5 billion changed hands.

Key regional indices were mixed. Hong Kong's Hang Seng Index fell 0.4 per cent, Japan's Nikkei 225 lost 0.3 per cent, and South Korea's Kospi declined 0.6 per cent. Meanwhile, the FTSE Bursa Malaysia KLCI gained 0.6 per cent.

The best performer was Yangzijiang Shipbuilding, which gained 2.8 per cent or S$0.09 to close at S$3.35.

The three banks ended mostly in the red. DBS ended flattish, rising 0.04 per cent or S$0.02 to close at S$53.70. UOB fell 0.6 per cent or S$0.19 to S$33.84, while OCBC fell 0.5 per cent or S$0.09 to S$18.16.

The biggest loser was Genting Singapore, falling 2.6 per cent or S$0.02 to S$0.75.

Stephen Innes, managing partner at SPI Asset Management, said: "Asia today isn't trading outright bearish."

"Japan remains the area where macro and geopolitics are adding complication rather than outright negativity," he added.

Innes pointed out that tensions between China and Japan have escalated into a tourism and sentiment shock, but noted that investors are treating it more as a macro headwind to monitor than an "imminent crisis".

Sterling eases after UK inflation; greenback rises ahead of key US data

STERLING edged lower on Wednesday (Nov 19) after British consumer price inflation fell in October as expected, raising expectations the Bank of England (BOE) will cut rates next month, while the US dollar edged higher ahead of key US data.

In the meantime, the yen hit a 10-month low against the dollar after a meeting between Bank of Japan governor Kazuo Ueda and key government ministers on Wednesday, including Finance Minister Satsuki Katayama, who said government was closely watching the market "with a high sense of urgency".

Britain's consumer price inflation fell to 3.6 per cent in October, from September's joint 18-month high of 3.8 per cent, as expected by the BOE and economists polled by Reuters, official figures showed on Wednesday.

The data cemented expectations that the BOE could cut interest rates in December.

"With the (UK) labour market softening more than expected, gross domestic product growth weaker than the BOE projected, and underlying inflation tracking a little lower than BOE expectations, we think governor (Andrew) Bailey will feel more confident about cutting bank rate below 4 per cent," said Deutsche Bank chief UK economist Sanjay Raja.

Sterling was down 0.17 per cent against the US dollar at 1.3121, briefly touching its lowest since Friday, when British markets were whipped around as speculation swirled around the highly-anticipated Nov 26 budget.

Elsewhere, investors struggled for direction, while US agencies were clearing a backlog of data after a prolonged government shutdown.

The dollar index, which measures the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, edged 0.15 per cent higher at 99.75.

The yen eased 0.4 per cent to 156.15, its lowest against the dollar since January.

The dollar had strengthened alongside demand for Treasury bonds even as odds of a Federal Reserve rate cut fell, which likely indicated safe-haven buying, analysts said.

"We're heading into very important releases in the US, so naturally there's a bit of wait-and-see momentum, although the momentum seems to be in favour of the US dollar," said Francesco Pesole, FX strategist at ING.

"I think this mostly reflects a combination of safe-haven flows, to some extent, and then the markets remain a bit sceptical about the possibility of the Fed pricing in December."

Fed funds futures are pricing an implied 47 per cent probability of a 25-basis-point cut at the Dec 10 meeting, compared with a 42.4 per cent chance a day earlier, according to the CME Group's FedWatch tool.

US President Donald Trump renewed his attacks on Federal Reserve chair Jerome Powell on Tuesday, saying "I'd love to get the guy currently in there out... but people are holding me back". Powell's term as Fed chair is up in May.

Global equity markets have been hit hard this week, with the S&P 500 on a four-day losing streak on concerns about valuations of artificial intelligence stocks.

Adding to the sense of market anxiety, initial jobless claims data released on Tuesday showed the number of Americans on jobless

British consumer price inflation fell in October, raising expectations that the Bank of England will cut rates next month. PHOTO: REUTERS benefits surged between mid-September and mid-October. Another test will come with the delayed release of Thursday's non-farm payrolls release for September.

Amid the rout in risk assets, the Australian dollar fell 0.4 per cent to US$0.6485, while the kiwi slipped 0.5 per cent to US$0.56300. REUTERS
