Singapore shares close down as markets react to new US tariffs

Across the broader market, decliners outnumbered advancers 359 to 182 after 1.8b shares worth S$1.4b change hands. BY BENJAMIN CHER

THE Straits Times Index (STI) closed down 0.5 per cent or 18.16 points at 3,890.76, after the US announced additional tariffs on Tuesday (Mar 4).

Across the broader market, decliners outnumbered advancers 359 to 182 after 1.8 billion shares worth S$1.4 billion changed hands.

The trio of local banks closed lower on Tuesday, with DBS down 0.5 per cent or S$0.24 at S$45.53. OCBC finished trading down 0.2 per cent or S$0.04 at S$17.17, while UOB dropped 0.4 per cent or S$0.15 to S$38.20.

The top gainer was ST Engineering, which rose 2.7 per cent or S$0.16 to S$6.03. Top loser Yangzijiang Shipbuilding declined 3.3 per cent or S$0.08 to S$2.34. Across the region, major indices closed lower, with the Kospi sliding 0.2 per cent and the Nikkei 225 down 1.2 per cent. Hong Kong's Hang Seng Index closed down 0.3 per cent and the KLCI decreased 1 per cent.

Markets reacted to US tariffs on Canada and Mexico potentially becoming a reality after US President Donald Trump's comment that there was "no room left" for a deal. The US also hiked tariffs on imports from China by 10 per cent on Monday, a move that markets anticipated, but risks further unwinding of Chinese equities, noted Yeap Jun Rong, market strategist at IG.

"With tariffs increasingly becoming a reality, expected market response was to de-risk, with major US indices reversing course overnight - Nasdaq fell 2.6 per cent, the S&P 500 dropped 1.8 per cent, and the Dow Jones Industrial Average declined 1.5 per cent," he said.

The only gainers were defensive sectors such as real estate, consumer staples, healthcare and utilities.

Yeap highlighted two key uncertainties in the global economic landscape - firstly, a wave of retaliatory trade measures may be triggered, with China, Mexico and Canada already signalling a potential tit-for-tat trade conflict; and secondly, recent concerns over US economic growth may be further intensified, adding to fragile sentiments amid weaker economic data.

US dollar falls to 3-month low; yuan rises

THE greenback fell to a three-month low on Tuesday (Mar 4) as concerns about slowing growth and the impact from tariffs on the US economy outweighed any potential boost from the ramping up of levies on Canada, Mexico and China.

US President Donald Trump's new 25 per cent tariffs on goods from Mexico and Canada took effect, along with a doubling of duties on Chinese goods to 20 per cent, at 0501 GMT.

In response, China said that it will impose additional tariffs of 10 to 15 per cent on certain US imports from Mar 10. Canada said that retaliatory tariffs on the US would take effect on Tuesday, and Mexico is expected to follow suit.

Worries of a trade war and the hit to other countries' economies might be expected to boost the US dollar, but recent weak economic data has weighed on the currency and bond yields in the US.

The US dollar index, which tracks the currency against six peers, fell 0.54 per cent to 105.96 – its lowest since December.

"While the US is now broadening its tariff regime to Canada and Mexico, weak domestic US activity... is preventing the dollar from strengthening on the tariff news," said Chris Turner, global head of markets at ING.

Investors flocked to traditional safe-haven currencies the Japanese yen and Swiss franc, which were both up almost 1 per cent, as growth and tariff fears knocked global stocks on Tuesday.

The Canadian dollar was around 0.45 per cent stronger at 1.4471 per US dollar, having hit a one-month low of 1.4542 late on Monday as tariffs were confirmed.

The Mexican peso was last down roughly 0.3 per cent at 20.76 per US dollar, after earlier touching its lowest since Feb 3.

Analysts said many in the market were hoping tariffs might quickly be lifted if deals can be struck, much as the initial threat of levies against Canada and Mexico was halted in February. "The size of initial moves lower for the Canadian dollar and Mexican peso has been relatively modest considering the scale of the tariffs that have been put in place," said Lee Hardman, senior currency analyst at Japanese bank MUFG.

"The price action suggests that market participants remain hopeful that the tariff hikes won't remain in place for long helping to limit trade and economic disruption."

The euro perked up, reflecting the lack of tariffs on the European Union and a sharp narrowing of the gap between US and eurozone bond yields, which has made the US dollar less attractive.

It climbed to its highest since December at US$1.0547, up 0.5 per cent.

Sterling rose to an 11-week high of US$1.2744, as the greenback slipped and was last up 0.3 per cent.

Trump said on Monday that he told leaders of Japan and China they cannot continue to reduce the value of their currencies, as doing so would be unfair to the US.

The US dollar fell 0.9 per cent against the yen to 148.17 – its lowest since October.

Speculators last week mounted their biggest ever wager that the yen will continue to rise as they position for further Bank of Japan interest rate hikes.

China's yuan rose around 0.3 per cent to 7.265 per US dollar, aided by the central bank continuing a strengthening bias in its daily official guidance. REUTERS
