Singapore shares rise, tracking regional gains; STI up 1.3%

Across the broader market, gainers outnumber decliners 316 to 142, after 1.4b securities worth S$2.1b change hands. BY RANAMITA CHAKRABORTY

LOCAL stocks finished stronger on Thursday (Feb 19), tracking regional gains and following a strong rebound in technology shares on Wall Street.

The benchmark Straits Times Index (STI) gained 1.3 per cent or 62.98 points to finish at 5,001.56. Meanwhile, the iEdge Singapore Next 50 Index rose 0.6 per cent or 9.13 points to 1,510.73.

Across the broader market, gainers outnumbered decliners 316 to 142, after 1.4 billion securities worth S$2.1 billion changed hands.

Regional markets also ended in positive territory. Japan's Nikkei 225 index rose 0.6 per cent, South Korea's Kospi was up 3.1 per cent, and the FTSE Bursa Malaysia KLCI advanced 0.6 per cent.

The Asian rally followed a strong performance on Wall Street on Wednesday, led by tech giants including Nvidia and Amazon, which helped ease earlier concerns about artificial intelligence (AI) investments.

"Economic data signalling the continued buoyancy of AI-related capital expenditures is propelling animal spirits on Wall Street," said Jose Torres, senior economist at Interactive Brokers.

He added that "positive durable goods and industrial production prints" reflect ongoing manufacturing activity, easing concerns over large-scale spending in the sector and driving a "strong comeback" in tech stocks.

At the same time, ongoing tensions between the United States and Iran kept oil prices steady; gold held firm as investors sought safety amid geopolitical uncertainties.

Torres noted that the "commodity complex as a whole is largely gaining on safe-haven demand", with gold climbing back above US$5,000.

"Elsewhere, volatility protection instruments are seeing lessening interest as investors unwind hedges," he added.

On the STI, Yangzijiang Shipbuilding led the gainers, rising 4.9 per cent or S$0.17 to end at S$3.64.

The worst performer among the index's constituents was Mapletree Logistics Trust, which fell 1.5 per cent or S$0.02 to S$1.28.

The three local banks ended higher on Thursday. DBS gained 1.3 per cent or S$0.73 to S$57.62, OCBC rose 2.3 per cent or S$0.48 to S$21.59, and UOB was up 0.7 per cent or S$0.27 at S$38.66.

US dollar stays clear of lows, Fed split over rate outlook

THE US dollar held above its recent lows on Thursday (Feb 19) after minutes from the Federal Reserve showed policymakers appear to be in no rush to cut interest rates and several were open to hikes if inflation proved sticky.

Investors were also nervous about a reported buildup of US forces in the Middle East and a potential US-Iran conflict, which lifted oil prices and safe-haven assets.

The euro, meanwhile, dipped marginally below US$1.18, having fallen sharply the day before, following a report that European Central Bank president Christine Lagarde planned to leave before her term ends in October next year.

Fed minutes released on Wednesday showed policymakers divided over where to take US rates and suggested that the next chairman, due to start in May, will have a hard time pushing through rate cuts.

Several policymakers are expecting productivity gains to dampen inflation, the minutes said, but "most participants" cautioned progress may be slow and uneven. Several even indicated hikes are possible if inflation stays above target.

"This suggests there isn't a great deal of urgency to cut rates again, at least not until after current chair (Jerome) Powell's term ends in May," said Peter Dragicevich, Asia-Pacific currency strategist at Corpay.

Data on Wednesday showed US factory production increased by the most in 11 months in January and rises in capex and housing starts. Markets are looking ahead to global purchasing managers' index figures and US gross domestic product data, due on Friday.

The euro edged higher against most other currencies, having stabilised after the sell-off triggered by speculation of Christine Lagarde's early departure from the European Central Bank. PHOTO: REUTERS

The euro edged higher against most other currencies, having stabilised after the sell-off triggered by speculation of Lagarde's early departure from the ECB that would give outgoing French leader Emmanuel Macron a say in picking her successor, according to the Financial Times.

Her term is due to end in October 2027 and potential successors are not expected to transform monetary policy, yet the speculation has arisen just as a change of guard materialises at the Fed.

"Given the number of countries at the table and the various deputies at the ECB, it may be the case that a change to the Fed is more important than a change to the ECB in terms of the direction that policy will take subsequent to that change," said Thierry Wizman, global FX and rates strategist at Macquarie Group.

"And she could be easily equally replaced by a dove as by a hawk. It's not clear what because there weren't any front-runners effectively out there. I think that's why the market is not putting that much into this headline," he said.

The yen edged a touch higher, having taken a knock after the Trump administration announced projects valued at US$36 billion as the first investments under Japan's pledge to invest US$550 billion in US projects.

It was last slightly stronger on the day at 154.63 to the dollar, having lost nearly 1.5 per cent in value so far this week.

"Direct Japanese investment into the US will be a key watch factor this year, and one which adds to the very mixed picture on USD/JPY," said Chris Turner, global head of research at ING.

"The question for FX markets this year is whether this investment proves a supportive dollar flow or something like Japan's FX reserves are used to guarantee new dollar loans and avoid pressure on the yen. The latter seems to be the preferred outcome for Tokyo."

Holidays for Hong Kong, China and Taiwan lightened Asia trade and the yuan was steady at 6.9 to the dollar in offshore trade in European hours. REUTERS
