Singtel rally helps lift Singapore shares to another record high; STI up 1.1%

The iEdge Singapore Next 50 Index, however, falls 0.5% to 1,489.35. BY RENALD YEO

SINGAPORE stocks ended higher on Tuesday (Feb 3), with the local bourse closing at another record high, shrugging off the past few days' rout in precious metals.

The benchmark Straits Times Index (STI) gained 1.1 per cent, or 51.82 points, to finish at 4,944.09 – a new all-time high. The iEdge Singapore Next 50 Index, however, fell 0.5 per cent, or 6.74 points, to 1,489.35.

Across the broader market, gainers outnumbered losers 372 to 201, after 1.4 billion securities worth S$1.9 billion changed hands.

Regional markets also ended in positive territory. Hong Kong's Hang Seng Index rose 0.2 per cent; Japan's Nikkei 225 climbed 3.9 per cent; South Korea's Kospi jumped 6.8 per cent; and Malaysia's FTSE Bursa Malaysia KLCI added 0.4 per cent.

Singtel led the blue-chip gainers, rising 4.7 per cent, or S$0.22, to end at S$4.86 – its highest level in over two months. The telco's rally came after reports that a consortium comprising Singtel and private equity firm KKR was close to acquiring ST Telemedia Global Data Centres at a valuation of about US$10.2 billion.

Analysts noted that the deal would rank among Asia's largest data centre transactions if completed.

Sovereign wealth funds GIC and Mubadala Investment are also reportedly in talks to join as minority co-investors.

The weakest performer among STI constituents was Thai Beverage, which slipped 1 per cent, or S$0.005, to close at S$0.475.

The three local banks ended higher. DBS gained 0.3 per cent, or S$0.17, to S$59.05; OCBC rose 0.9 per cent, or S$0.18, to S$21.28; and UOB added 0.1 per cent, or S$0.03, to S$38.43.

US dollar steady on Fed bets and data

THE US dollar held broadly steady on Tuesday (Feb 3) as positive economic data and shifting expectations for Federal Reserve policy outweighed concerns about another US government shutdown.

The dollar index, which measures the greenback against a basket of currencies, was little changed at 97.53 after a two-day 1.5 per cent advance. The euro was up 0.12 per cent at US$1.1804.

The greenback has been on a stronger footing in recent days following Kevin Warsh's nomination as the next Fed chief, as markets broadly expect him to be less likely to press for rapid rate cuts than other candidates.

Warsh's nomination also signalled that US President Donald Trump was not looking to take away the Fed's power over policy setting, said Lee Hardman, senior currency analyst at MUFG. But, he noted, Warsh was also likely to "at least initially support lower rates".

"We think when the dust settles, the dollar will re-weaken and we expect the euro-dollar to rise back above the 1.20 level later this year as the Fed cuts rates and the ECB (European Central Bank) keeps rates on a hold."

US manufacturing data, meanwhile, showed a return to growth, with the Institute for Supply Management saying on Monday that its manufacturing PMI rebounded to 52.6 last month, the highest reading since August 2022.

The closely watched US jobs report for January, however, will not be released this week because of a partial shutdown of the federal government.

Elsewhere, geopolitical tensions cooled as the US reached a trade deal with India and said nuclear talks would resume with Iran.

The Aussie surged after the Reserve Bank of Australia delivered its first rate increase in two years, lifting its cash rate by 25 basis points to 3.85 per cent. The central bank also warned about inflation, stoking bets that there would be at least one more increase this year.

The Australian dollar was last up 0.96 per cent at US$0.7014. It rose to its highest level against the yen since 1990, up more than 1.5 per cent to 109.48 yen.

Both the ECB and the Bank of England are expected to keep policy rates on hold when they meet on Thursday. Markets will watch closely for any hints from the ECB on whether recent euro strength could influence policy-making going forward.

Later in the week, Japan's lower house election will come into focus.

Investors have sold the yen and Japanese government bonds in the run-up to the election on Feb 8 on bets that a strong showing for Prime Minister Sanae Takaichi's party would give her a free hand to expand stimulus.

The yen got a respite last week after Japanese policymakers hinted at joining with the US in coordinated action to defend their currency.

The dollar was last steady against the Japanese currency at 155.67 yen, down from the 1½ year high of 159.45 yen hit in mid-January.

"The outcome of this weekend's election will now be key, as a strong showing for Takaichi could push the yen back in the direction of the 160 level," said Matthew Ryan, head of market strategy at Ebury.

Finance Minister Satsuki Katayama on Tuesday defended Takaichi's recent comments highlighting the benefits of a weaker yen, stating that the premier had referenced "what is written in textbooks".

In cryptocurrencies, Bitcoin fell 0.3 per cent to US$78,211.25, while ether declined 2.5 per cent to US$2,281.98. REUTERS
