Singapore shares rise 0.3% as Jardine Matheson, banks gain

Across the broader market, losers outnumber gainers 338 to 217

SINGAPORE stocks ended higher on Tuesday (Oct 13), even as declines outnumbered gains in the broader market.

The benchmark Straits Times Index (STI) rose 0.3 per cent, or 15.02 points, to 5,430.50.

Hongkong Land led the gainers on the blue-chip index, rising 2.5 per cent, or US$0.20, to US$8.13.

Sats was the STI's biggest decliner, falling 1.6 per cent, or S$0.06, to S$3.67.

Fellow Jardine group company Jardine Matheson was up 1.1 per cent, or US$0.59, at US$56.42.

This was after it announced a deal to buy out Balfour Beatty's 50 per cent stake in construction group Gammon for £250 million (US$331 million), payable in three tranches to December 2028.

The conglomerate also raised its Macquarie says Jardine Matheson's upgraded guidance reflects "continued solid performance" across its portfolio in the first nine months of 2026.

2026 underlying earnings per share (EPS) guidance to US$5.50 to US$5.65, from an earlier expectation for flat earnings of about US$5.33 a share.

Macquarie analyst Jayden Vantarakis said the Gammon acquisition should be modestly accretive to earnings within the first year.

Gammon contributed US$53 million in profit after tax and minority interests to Jardine Matheson in FY2025, with Macquarie estimating the acquisition was struck at about six times trailing earnings.

The brokerage added that Jardine Matheson's upgraded guidance, implying underlying EPS growth of 3 to 5 per cent, reflected "continued solid performance" across its portfolio in the first nine months of 2026.

It maintained its "outperform" call and US$80 target price.

All three local banks finished higher. DBS gained 0.7 per cent, or S$0.53, to S$74.47; OCBC rose 0.5 per cent, or S$0.14, to S$29.20; and UOB was up 1.1 per cent, or S$0.43, at S$40.93.

Across the broader market, losers outnumbered gainers 338 to 217, with 992.7 million securities worth S$1.9 billion changing hands.

Regional markets were mixed.

Greenback slips with oil prices; euro rebounds

THE US dollar slipped from 18-month highs on Tuesday (Oct 13), in line with a retreat in oil prices, with investors hoping the Middle East conflict would remain contained ahead of US midterm elections and shifting focus to the Federal Reserve's rate path.

Markets expect US President Donald Trump to avoid escalation in the Middle East and Ukraine, as wider conflict could hurt his standing ahead of the midterm elections.

He said on Oct 8 that the US will not attack Iran before the elections, and mentioned an energy ceasefire between Russia and Ukraine on Sunday.

Oil prices fell on Tuesday and were on track for their first decline in nearly a week, as traders weighed the prospect of additional diesel supplies from Russia.

Wednesday's September consumer price index reading should provide further clues about possible Fed tightening.

Traders see an 80 per cent chance of the Fed leaving rates unchanged in October, up from 51 per cent a month ago, while pricing in about 75 basis points of tightening by late 2027, CME's FedWatch Tool showed.

"While markets would react to a hawkish surprise, one CPI release may not be enough to undo a pause narrative that senior officials have seemed keen to establish," said Daragh Maher, senior forex strategist at HSBC.

A modest upside surprise in inflation data may strengthen confidence in December's already-priced hike, without changing October or the dollar materially.

Investors abandoned bets on a Fed rate hike later in October after two policymakers argued for gathering more evidence before deciding whether further tightening is needed, while governor Christopher Waller said inflation expectations remained "well anchored".

The dollar index slid 0.30 per cent to 102.26 after reaching 102.61 on Monday, its highest since April 2025.

Rising oil prices usually support the dollar at the expense of energy-importing currencies such as the euro and yen.

The euro rebounded from a roughly 17-month low on Tuesday despite another jump in gas prices, a key driver of eurozone inflation, while concerns over France's fiscal outlook persisted. It was up 0.32 per cent at US$1.1190 after hitting US$1.11525 on Monday, its lowest since May 2025.

"The prospect for good news coming in the euro area is slim, and any further bad news would prompt the (European Central Bank) to slow the pace of rate hikes, or end them altogether," Thierry Wizman, global forex and rates strategist at Macquarie Group, said, referring to France's fiscal trajectory and the impact of the energy shock.

The central bank slowing the pace of rate hikes "would likely cause further euro/dollar downside", he added.

Natural gas prices reached 86.30 euros (US$96.54), their highest level since December 2022.

The Australian dollar was at US$0.6975, little changed after the release of minutes from the Reserve Bank of Australia's September board meeting that voted unanimously to raise rates for the fourth time this year. REUTERS
