Singapore stocks slip as oil volatility weighs; STI down 0.4%

SINGAPORE stocks ended lower on Friday (Mar 20), as the Iranian conflict continued for a third week and oil markets remained under pressure.

The benchmark Straits Times Index (STI) fell 0.4 per cent or 18.74 points to 4,948.87. The iEdge Singapore Next 50 Index declined 0.9 per cent or 12.88 points to 1,464.78.

The three local banks ended mixed on Friday. UOB rose 0.1 per cent or S$0.02 to S$37.18, while DBS fell 0.1 per cent or S$0.07 to S$57.40 and OCBC declined 0.6 per cent or S$0.13 to S$21.37.

Within the iEdge Singapore Next 50 Index, Centurion Accommodation Reit was the top gainer, rising 6.4 per cent or S$0.07 to S$1.17, while Banyan Tree was the biggest decliner, falling 5.8 per cent or S$0.035 to S$0.57.

Across the broader market, losers edged out gainers 297 to 295, with 1.9 billion securities worth S$3.1 billion traded.

Venture Corporation led gains among STI constituents, rising 1.3 per cent or S$0.20 to close at S$15.95.

Hongkong Land was the worst performer on the index, falling 3.1 per cent or US$0.26 to US$8.02, as it traded ex-dividend.

Late on Thursday, Hongkong Land said it had acquired a 10.8 per cent stake in Suntec Reit for S$541 million.

The acquisition will enable the group to deploy recently recycled capital into prime, income-producing commercial assets in Singapore, it said in a statement.

On the global front, stocks have "inched up after a brutal sell-off on Thursday but Iran continues to strike targets" in the Middle East, wrote Neil Wilson, UK investor strategist at Saxo Markets, in a Friday note.

"The picture is confused," he added. "Brent crude has dipped back to around US$107 after touching US$119 yesterday."

Regional markets closed mixed. Hong Kong's Hang Seng Index fell 0.9 per cent, while South Korea's Kospi rose 0.3 per cent. The FTSE Bursa Malaysia KLCI and Japan's Nikkei 225 were closed on Friday due to holidays.

Tesla in talks with Chinese firms to buy US$2.9b worth of solar equipment: sources

TESLA is looking to buy equipment worth US$2.9 billion for manufacturing solar panels and cells from Chinese suppliers including Suzhou Maxwell Technologies, two people familiar with the matter said, as Tesla chief Elon Musk aims to add 100 gigawatts of solar capacity in the US.

Musk said in January that solar power could meet all of the electricity needs of the US – including the ever-increasing demand from a growing number of data centres. Job postings on the Tesla website said it aims to deploy 100 GW of "solar manufacturing from raw materials on American soil before the end of 2028".

Suzhou Maxwell Technologies – the world's biggest producer of screen-printing equipment used to make solar cells – is among the leading candidates to supply machinery for the project and has been seeking export approval from China's commerce ministry.

The sources declined to be named because the information is not public. Other potential suppliers include Shenzhen SC New Energy Technology and Laplace Renewable Energy Technology, they said.

Some of the estimated 20 billion yuan (S$3.7 billion) worth of equipment, including screen-printing production lines, will require export approval from Chinese regulators, according to the people. It was not immediately clear how much of the equipment would require approval or how long it would take.

The Chinese companies were told to deliver the equipment before this autumn, the people said, adding that it would be shipped to Texas. Musk plans to build the solar capacity mainly for use by Tesla, although some will be used to power SpaceX satellites.

The potential order highlights one issue for the US as it looks to reduce its dependence on China – reviving US manufacturing still requires some degree of trade with the world's second-largest economy.

An order from Tesla would mark a big boost for Chinese producers of solar manufacturing equipment, which have struggled with weak demand because of a domestic production glut. REUTERS
